was his last chance to redeem himself, and the club officials say he did it. Five singles were all the Gas City men could make off him, and two of these were rank ning he received great support. Then a funny combination of errors let in the only bases full Shugart hit a high fly to O'Rourk and left his comrades to die on the base Their other two hits came sandwiched the second and fifth innings and yielde

Baldwin Did Extremely Well.

Baldwin, too, pitched a grand game Ward being the only one to gauge hir more than once. His own and Shugart's mis plays were responsible for four of the runs made, the other being earned. Neither hitcher gave a base on balls, which shows pitcher gave a base on what excellent command both had of the sphere. The star play of the day was made by Donovan, who captured a long fly on foul ground after a desperate run, by holding out his left hand and grabbing it as he sprinted along. Beckley and Farrell played well, while Shindle, Ward and Stricker put up a great game for Baltimore.

Neither side succeeded in sending a man across the plate until the fifth inning, when Ward scratched out a doubtful single, Gunson tried to sacrifice, but Baldwin got hold of the ball and, but for a poor throw, would have caught Ward at second; as it was both runners were safe. Then Cobb sacrificed, moving both up a base and on Stricker's sacrifice Ward, by great sprinting, slid to the plate.

They Tied the Score.

Pittsburg tied the score in the seventh. Shngart's slow one was neatly stopped by O'Rourke, but Sutcliffe juggled the ball. Then O'Rourke funibled Beckley's grounder and both were sate, Shugart going to third. Farrell hit to Shindle, who cut Shugart off at the plate, but Gunson dropped the ball and the run counted. In the next inning, Baltimore earned the only run, made on O'Rourke's single and Cobb's triple over Donovan's head, In Cobb's triple over Donovan's head. In the eighth after Shindle had gone out Van Haltren hit to Beckley. Jake threw to Baldwin who had run to cover the base, but he juggled the ball. Sutcliffe then tollowed he juggled the ball. Sutcliffe then tollowed with a single and Stovey went out. PITTSBURG SHOWED UP WELL.

Fine Sport at the Manhattan Carnival and a Record Broken.

New York, Sept. 17 .- [S coid.]-Under the favoring auspices of ideal weather, enthusiastic spectators, high class competition and perfect management the second annual carnival of the Manhattan Athletic Club was an unbounded success. They consisted besides the track and athletic field day sports of clay pigeon shooting, rowing and naphtha launch races, baseball, lacrosse, football and tennis and a great parade of cyclers. Following is a summary of the events in which Pitts-burg contestants figured:

Swimmers Form a Club.

Several of Pittsburg's most prominent amateur swimmers have lately been making vigorous attempts forming a swimming club. The object is to teach and foster the art of swimming and to conduct it on the same plan as the Philadelphia Amateur Swimming Club, which, although only two years old, has a membership of 200 and has this year conducted several successful tournaments.

There are now in Pittaburg swimmers who, with encouragement and practice, will make it lively for the records in America. A meeting was held last week and it was decided to issue a call, and all who wish to join can send their names and address to Acting Secretary S. Krouthen, 103 Market atteet, who, when enough have sent in their names, will issue a call for a regular

O'Connor Is Willing. TORONTO, Sept. 17 .- Oarsman William O'Connor, replying to Hanlon, asserts that it was Hanlan who reduced the American pionship, while he (O'Connor) won it at that distance. O'Connor offers to row Hanlan a five-mile race for $1,000 a side and to share the receipts outside of the stake. O'Connor also signifies his willingness to arrange a match with Gaudaur or to enter a sweep-stake with Gaudaur and Hanlan.

The Homesteads Won.

A very interesting game of association football was played at New Castle yesterday between the team of that place and the Homesteads, the latter winning by 4 goals to L. Beddoes and Marland on the right played well, and Banks' work in center half was admirable. The brothers Isles also did splendid work at left wing and goal respect-ively. The Homesteads would like to hear from all amateur teams. Address box 148, Homestead, Pa.

The Herron Hills to Shoot. The Herron Hill Gun Club will give an allday sweepstakes shoot at its grounds on Brunot's Island commencing at 10 o'clock A leave the toot of Market street for the grounds every 30 minutes.

Lew Shaw and his wife, the famous bill iard players, who have just returned from Paris, have been engaged to give an exhibi-tion of their skill at the Linden Club, East End, next Friday evening. They will per-form before several local clubs and in pri-vate halls. Mr. Shaw is the best finger bill-iardist in the world.

The fall meeting of the Homewood Park Association was finished yesterday and a good wind-up it was. There were more than 2,000 people present and the weather and track were good. There were four regular events and two unfinished races on the card, but only three of the former were brought off on account of darkness. Two of the three regular events were somewhat tame, as Raven and Egyptienna won their races easily. Lakewood Prince won the free-for-all trot and proved himself a splendid horse. He is a goer and when in form can beat any of those who opposed him easily.

In the first nece Fairy and Alaho closed equal first choices at 6 to 5. McCafferty beat the flag three lengths, and won by a length from Fairy in a wilipping flutsh. M. F. Dwyer's money made Nomad a 9 to 5 favorite for the second event, and Doggett squeezed him in first by half a longth, Fred Taral and Walcott, 5 to 2 each, finishing second and third. After half an hour's delay at the bost, Gideen and Daly's Giroffe colt, 4 to 5, Taral up, beat Young Arion, 10 to 1, a head for the first race, and Equity, 7 to 2, Simms up, gallowed in winner of the last race, Strephon, 30 to 1, second, and Homer, 8 to 5, third. Summaries: and track were good. There were four Therewas great interest in the unfinished pace. Cleveland S. and J. H. L. each had two heats, and there was heavy betting on their chances for the race. Cleveland S. was favorite. The send off was a good one. J. H. L. paced a good heat, while Cleveland S. broke badly. The former won handily by two lengths. The unfinished free-for-all trot was won by Lakewood Prince. He and Gillet each bad two heats won and the deciding heat was won easily by the Prince. An Interesting Trotting Race. The first of the regular events on the card was the 2:20 trot, and it was just as hard fought a battle as anybody would wish to see. Gertrude was the favorite before the race started, and after she won the first two heats she was a very strong favorite. Con-stantine always had lots of supporters, and he won the race by completely outstaying the little chestnut mare.

Gertrude won the first heat after a good struggle with Garnet. She also won the second after a close argument with Constantine. The heat tired Gertrude considerably. Constantine won the third heat with much to spare from Gertrude. Nellie Mason, in the fourth heat, got down to a splendid gait and won an excellent heat from Constantine by a length. paid 8:1 10, 37 96, 877 30.

Constantine was still favorite over the field, and the betting was heavy. He won the fifth heat easily. The sixth heat was the best of the meeting. The favorite and Gertrude trotted neck and neck to the lower turn, when the mare dropped off leg-weary, and Constantine won easily by four lengths.

There was considerable speculation on the 2:27 pace, but the race didn't result in much that was interesting as Raven, the local horse, had an easy task in winning three heats after allowing Miss Cumsky to win the first heat. Raven was, of course, a strong favorite in the pools. After she had won the second she was almost at prohibi-

Miss Cumsky Got a Heat. Miss Cumsky won the first heat after quite an argument with King Hiero. The mare made a game effort for the second heat but Raven was too speedy and won the heat and the two following with ease. In the fourth heat the drivers on Wilkie Knox and Dusty Bob were taken down and new ones put up but without much differ-ence in the going of the horses.

In the last heat Miss Cumsky broke badly in going to the quarter and lost so much ground that she was distanced and King Hiero was given second money. M. T. Hoyer, driver of Harry Hoyer, was fined once $5 and once $25 for scoring before the pole horse. The 2:33 trot was merely a "waikover" for Egyptieune and she won the three heats as

The uniforms of some were of elegant cloth and of the neatest fitting; of more it was of a cheaper make, and showed more it was of a cheaper make, and showed more it was of a cheaper make, and showed signs of much usage, while not a few seemed to be wearing the only suits of the kind they have had since the organization of the Grand Army, and still others were sporting what appeared to be the same field-stained toggery, which had been about their only wardrobe when they were nustered out of the ranks.

The most picturesque arrivals were some who had come prepared for roughing it in the barracks or the tents, and who carried their luggage with them in very slender bags or baskets, having long ago become accustomed to throw away on the march all that was not absolutely necessary.
